music for dogs

Staffer Elizabeth Gardiner takes a listen to a crop of CDs created with your dog in mind.

K9 Fusion

Wow, if you ever wondered what man and dog would sound like if they joined musical talents, this CD is for you. Steve Brooks and his dog, Sven the Love Dog, have created some unique interspecies music. It's an alternative combination of howling, barking, and grunting with some funky beats, something like a mix of Portishead and the family hound that loves to sing along. Sven the Love Dog plays all the instruments on the album, except for the drums (dutifully performed by his owner, Steve). Definitely different, but, hey, this genre-defying album may be your dog's thing.
